Japan is full of opportunity for new exclusive TV broadcast content. Additionally, the Japanese population is attracted to foreign cultural and sporting events such as the Tour de France cycling race (Saitama) or the Roppongi art night (Paris nuit blanche).

Although Japan has long received treatment in Western media, its wonders are countless and it offers interesting topics to present to Western mass media. Japan's strong cultural identity offers unique subjects, but can also be a barrier for Western media to access.
