The best care is self-care

We understand that you may not have control over some of your inherited genetics. Nevertheless, you can take the proper steps to prevent further damage. We will also discuss your current lifestyle practices that may affect you and how to proceed further with any changes. Many times, these problems repeat themselves because of repeated behaviors within the home like unhealthy habits. This can include high cholesterol, little to no exercise, smoking, and high alcohol intake. Therefore, you may be able to stop the cycle of health problems by researching your genetic health history. Being vigilant about your health will
